Choreographers and Guest Artists

Camara Kesi Glover (3rd Year, History & Elementary Education, Dance Minor) Choreographed work: Shades of Gray (Center for the Arts Senior Showcase). Growing up, I trained at the School of Richmond Ballet in Richmond, Virginia. Primarily, I focused in Ballet and Jazz. For high school I attended Henrico High School’s Center for the Arts with a concentration in dance. This was where I had my first experience to choreograph. As a Dance Minor here at U.Va. I’ve strengthened my choreographic skill set and have combined this with my personal dance experiences to create the title of my piece.

Olivia Howard (4th Year, English, Dance Minor) Olivia has trained in dance since she was three. As a Dance Minor, she has taken classes in composition, somatics, and technique. This is her sixth concert. In this piece, she worked with her dancers to explore the opportunities the Caplin offered, and worked to show off the incredible skill of her dancers.

Marie Landragin (U.Va. ’02) is a musician, graphic designer, screen printer and visual artist. She grew up in Australia where she played piano and sang in the St. Aloysuis choir. As a young teenager she moved to Culpeper, Virginia and proceeded to immerse herself in heavy metal and hard rock in order to cope with the culture shock of the move. In high school she began taking classical guitar classes and quickly moved on to the electric guitar, specifically lead guitar. Marie attended U.Va. from 2000 - 2002 and graduated with an International Relations and Foreign Affairs degree. She has since pursued music and played in several bands, Kon Tiki Radar, Devil Take the Hindmost and Mass Sabbath (a Halloween Black Sabbath tribute band). She has toured Germany and the Czech Republic playing lead guitar in the early metal/hard rock outfit Corsair who are signed to Shadow Kingdom Records. She also contributes lead guitar work to the pop-psych band Borrowed Beams of Light.

Kim Brooks Mata is the Head and Artistic Director of the Department of Drama’s Dance Program. She has studied dance nationally and internationally in the Netherlands and at the University of Utah. Her background in performance and certification in Laban/Bartenieff Movement Analysis inform her coaching, teaching, directing, and creative work. In both her live dance works and dances for camera, Kim enjoys exploring the use of weight, momentum, and flow. Common concepts found in her creative work include identity, relationship, and community. These themes are not only present on the stage, but also in the classroom and the studio setting.

Anna Reimold (4th Year, Chemistry, Dance Minor): Dancer: Fall Experimental Dance Concert (U.Va. Dance), Final Showcase (Virginia Governor’s School for Dance), Story Ballets (Fairfax Ballet), Jazz and Modern Showcases (Fairfax Ballet). She used this piece as an opportunity to explore the relationship between sound and movement.

Katie Baer Schetlick is a dance artist/choreographer/researcher and current Lecturer in Dance at the University of Virginia. Her work has been presented at Dixon Place, Movement Research, NADA Hudson, Fleet Moves Dance Festival, the Museum Perron Oost (Netherlands), the International Dance Theatres Festival (Lublin), Downtown Contemporary Arts Festival (Cairo), the Bridge Progressive Arts Initiative, Ruffin Gallery, and the Haven. Together with Zena Bibler, Katie is the co-founder and co-director of the Movement Party and the Fleet Moves Dance Festival. She holds a MA in Performance Studies from New York University with a focus on dance and the politics of space and BFA in Dance with a minor in Anthropology from the Alvin Ailey/Fordham University program.

Helen Simoneau is a native of Québec, Canada. She has received commissions from the American Dance Festival, the Bessie Schönberg Residency at The Yard, Springboard Danse Montréal, and the Swiss International Coaching Project (SiWiC) in Zurich. She was a resident artist at the Baryshnikov Arts Center in NYC and Bates Dance Festival in Maine and has received fellowships from the Bogliasco Foundation and from the North Carolina Arts Council. Notable venues that have presented her work include Joyce SoHo in NYC, Tangente in Montréal, The Aoyama Round Theatre in Tokyo, the L.I.G. Art Hall Busan in South Korea, Jacob’s Pillow (Inside/Out), Movement Research at Judson Church, Athens International Dance Festival in Greece, and Danza Urbana in Bologna. Her work has also been presented at PACT-Zollverein in Essen as one of three finalists for the Kurt Jooss Prize and at the 13th Internationales Solo-Tanz-Theatre Festival in Stuttgart, Germany, where she was awarded 1st place for Choreography. Simoneau received a B.F.A from the North Carolina School of the Arts and a M.F.A. from Hollins University.

Brad Mason Stoller (Lecturer, Dance U.Va.; Coordinator of Theatrical Production, PVCC) Choreographed Work: The Bacchae (Mary Washington, Drama); Moby Dick (University of Richmond, Drama); Sticky Fingers (Shenandoah University, Dance).

Sage Tanguay (3rd Year, Drama, Dance Minor) Choreographed work: Ça Va?, Prompera, O, The confines of a box! (U.Va. Dept. of Drama Dance Program); Dance: 5-Slided Projection (Community Dance Connection Theatre). Since her improvisational beginnings at Halestone Dance Studio in Lexington, Virginia, Sage Tanguay has dedicated her focus to using performance to (Choreographers and Guest Artists bios continued) examine the intricacies of societal norms and traditions. This semester’s work is inspired by the gender relations found in Shakespeare’s Hamlet and the nostalgia of disco.

Lauren Thomas (4th Year, German Studies) Native to Charlottesville, Lauren studied ballet, with minor focuses in modern and jazz, at Albemarle Ballet Theater in Crozet, Va. Coming to U.Va. has really challenged her in the area of choreography specifically; taking great interest in overwhelming emotions and troubles, and how those issues can be explained and soothed through movement.

Live Musicians

Blood Moon is an improvised music ensemble consisting of colleagues from the U.Va. Music Department: Matthew Burtner (professor) on soprano saxophone, Rachel Trapp on French Horn, Ryan Maguire on pedal steel guitar, and Kevin Davis on cello (PhD students in composition). The group formed in 2014 due to a shared interest in the possibilities of free improvisation. The project has since come to serve as a forum for research into the possibilities for real-time composition and experimentation with the outer limits of instrumental technique. Due to their unusual instrumentation and varied backgrounds as performers and composers, the group is able to draw on a number of diverse stylistic and instrumental traditions, allowing for a kaleidoscopic array of musical textures to spontaneously emerge during performance. http://blood-moon.bandcamp.com/
